Fiserv Health Offers Center of Excellence for Hospital and Health System Administration and Management

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 6, 2006—Fiserv Health, a business group of Fiserv, Inc. (NASDAQ: FISV) announced today it has established a Center of Excellence (COE) for the administration and management of hospital and health system benefit plans. The move emphasizes the organization's commitment to understanding the unique needs and issues of this market.

The COE consists of a dedicated team of health benefit professionals who focus on the administration of Fiserv Health provider-based clients. The team is well versed in the unique processes and demands of such clients, and adheres to a system of best practices to ensure consistency and efficiency.

"This specialization also allows us to anticipate and develop products and services that reflect market segment shifts and needs before they occur," said Tina Haecker, vice president—Hospital and Health Plan Administration. "We have already created a number of programs and tools that address this market's unique issues."

Such tools include performance indicators and measurements centered on key metrics developed specifically for hospital and health system clients, and an education and training program focused on three-tier hospital employee health plan designs and hospital in-house pharmacies. Fiserv Health aligns its services with medical institution goals and capabilities. The organization also offers bilingual capabilities and 24-hour customer service through the effective use of technology and online tools.
